

October 11, 2025: On Being Held Inside a Bubble of Oppression

I am writing to inform the public that I am being held against my will within a bubble of oppression that began from the campaign of Donald J. Trump for President in 2024.

This oppression began as the Donald Trump campaign for President began taking an interest in spying on my work as I sued Bexar County, and the State of Texas, for the information that supported the publicly displayed voting numbers of the 2020 election.

After Donald's loss in 2020, the charges were being brought against him that he had engaged in an insurrection against the United States and he was challenging the election results of the 2020 election.

I am setting aside, for now, the plot that I believe was intentionally being carried out at that time to setup this unfortunate chain of events that we find ourselves in at this time.

On point with today's writing is the fact that, while I prosecuted these lawsuits against the eight largest counties in Texas and against the State of Texas itself to bring about important updates to the manner of collecting and presenting voting records in the State of Texas,

Donald Trump's campaign for President in 2024 began to spy on my work and attempt to influence the decisions that I was making in producing the legal work of my law firm and legal filings. I am publicly testifying that Donald Trump's campaign for President in 2024 was actively spying on my legal filings as I produced them, attempting to influence the work in various ways, and was actively encouraging me to get more involved with the Republican Party of Texas.

At that time, I was under the impression that some form of legal surveillance may have been produced from my attempts to bring legal actions, or some other borderline illegal surveillance that could be barely justified by the surveillance state. While I believed that this was likely illegal, I still gave the benefit of the doubt to the American government in this respect.

Since then, this same surveillance technology began to become more intrusive into my life and home and began creating a series of 'proofs' for me that were designed to prove to me the extent to which our home was actually being monitored. These proofs began to show that this illegal surveillance was beyond merely watching over the writings on my computer, but were actually watching over my real-world movements both around my home and community - and also within my own home in the most private of ways.

The illegal surveillance began to prove itself in ways that were more than illegal surveillance, but were actually becoming criminally intrusive, threatening, and oppressive of the events and circumstances inside of our home life. Eventually, these illegal surveillance forces began causing physical harm to our vehicles and produced threatening events in the real world both near our home and at our own front yard.

I am testifying to the world that Donald Trump's campaign for President is still, to this very day, exercising an oppressive resistance force over my home life at all times of the day and night to keep my testimony from being seen by as few people as possible. I am being held within a 'Catch and Kill' oppressive bubble by the President of the United States and he is intentionally causing harming to my ability to produce work and live my normal life.

I am testifying to you, publicly, and I am logging this on the internet archive as my only way of ensuring that my voice is seen in the world. Donald Trump is holding me captive as a witness that is able to testify against his criminal activities. Donald Trump is committing felonies daily by exhibiting this captivity to me and Donald Trump's team is - right now - sending vehicles past my home to punctuate every single sentence that I am writing in this message.

I am truly unable to continue expressing these messages with a clear mind as my environment is constantly being invaded by the criminal team of Donald Trump.

I will continue to document these events as they unfold, but for now, just know that Donald Trump is a lying, cheating, threatening, and felonious little bitch that is afraid of his own reflection in the mirror.

Donald Trump knows that he is a disgusting face of evil and that he has committed terrible crimes against the people of the world in his selfish quest to gather the spotlight to himself and protect his own fake reputation.

World, Donald Trump is holding people hostage. Donald Trump has no business producing the 'safe environment' of returning Israel's hostages today. Donald Trump is responsible for intentionally taking hostages for political and monetary gains.

World, Donald Trump is a fraud that is actively causing harm to innocent men, women, and children within the United States of America.

Please reject his influence from the life of our world.

Donald: I am writing directly to you now.

Remove your troops of cars from my presence immediately.

Remove your spying technology from my presence immediately.

Remove your oppressive forces from my presence immediately.

I am not allowing you to continue exerting this force over my life.

You must stop. You are actively falling in front of the world and you have no hope of redemption.

Stop taking your failures out on my home.

You are trash. Leave my home alone. Leave my presence and leave my life.
